

Epygi Certifies VTech on its QX Line

Winter Park, Fla. July 21, 2016—Epygi Technologies, Ltd., a worldwide provider of award-winning IP PBXs and gateways, and VTech Communications, Inc., a global leader and manufacturer of SIP-based phones, have partnered together and certified interoperability.

“Epygi is happy to be working with VTech, extending our reach in the enterprise market. Together we provide strong, reliable solutions that are scalable and feature-rich. We believe this interoperability will benefit our customers exponentially,” said Andy White, director of support and training, Epygi Technologies.

Epygi has tested and confirmed interoperability with VTech’s prestigious line of business phones, including ErisTerminal[®] and ErisStation[®] SIP systems. This testing aligns the two companies with a focus on high-quality, user-friendly products. VTech phones have been added to Epygi’s extensive list of supported IP phones, offering a wide selection for ease of installation and customization to meet customers’ needs.

“Epygi’s cost-effective IP PBX solutions work with VTech’s SIP phones to ensure businesses stay in control and experience clear calls. VTech understands the importance of integrating high-quality systems to meet the needs of customers around the world,” said Graham Williams, vice president, Business Phones Division, VTech Communications.
